

Thank you for taking the time to read my application for the Motion Designer position.

I have 7 years of experience working as a Motion Graphic Designer and Video editor, I have worked across various industries including technology, events and education. In my roles I have been responsible for the creation of high quality content that has been used by clients for their: B2B and B2C marketing, events(live/online), short films and content for platforms such as; BBC One Show and Netflix.

I am used to working both independently and collaboratively depending on what the project needs, while incorporating feedback from multiple sources to produce the highest quality content. I have worked on a wide array of content such as: short film, social media content, how to videos, infographics animations and utilised visual effects techniques such as: compositing, rotoscoping and motion tracking.

I am quick to learn new programs and enjoy the challenge and problem solving complicated projects can bring. I have a love of developing new skills inside and outside of work. I am very adept with Adobe CC suite and have experience with Cinema 4D and 3rd party AE plugins such as Red Giant suite and characters animation tool DUIK, having used them for years in my career.

Having worked in an agency I am very familiar with working across multiple departments and enjoy the way this communication can help to improve projects, being involved from the outset of a project to support on scoping and quoting is also something I am regularly involved with and enjoy seeing how it can lead to a smooth running project that fits budget and timelines.

Using Video to help brands to convey their message is something I feel passionate about and I am keen to move my career forward. I would be a great fit for the role and would love to join the team. I hope to hear from you soon.

Thanks,
